

Book/Movie Recommendation Poster

Now that you've read your book and watched the movie adaptation, you have a chance to decide which version was superior and why. In the next few weeks, you will create a Google Doc "poster" that includes the following elements:

- a catchy title that reveals which stance you are taking (book is better/movie is better)
- pictures of both your book cover and your movie cover
- a recommendation paragraph that explains which version you find better and why
 - * (You must list and explain three convincing reasons why you feel that way.)
- a summary paragraph that covers the main plot points of the version you are recommending
- two quotations from reviewers who agree with your recommendation

This project has two main goals:

1. First, it is meant to help you be persuasive and make convincing arguments, a skill that can come in handy for anyone.
2. Second, it is meant to help you make sure that you can use outside sources and properly credit them when you do. Even if you're not planning on going to college, this will help you make sure that you are honest and ethical when using the words and information of others.

We will work on the different project steps together throughout class. You will also gain skills in the following areas:

- navigating online review sites, like Rotten Tomatoes and Good Reads
- reading outside sources and finding the main points
- expressing your ideas clearly through writing

IDEALLY, WE WILL FINISH THIS PROJECT BY FRIDAY, APRIL 13
